Re: Boiler Equipment Replacement

Dear Ms. Feeney:

I am responding to your inquiries on the subject of obtaining permits for boiler work in designated New York City landmarks. It has been our long standing agreement with the New York City Department of Buildings that boiler replacement and repairs do not require Landmarks Preservation Commission review or approval. Therefore, the Department of Buildings is free to issue permits for this work type without requiring the applicant to obtain a Certificate of No Effect from the Landmarks Commission.

In summary, due to the nature of the work, the Landmarks Commission has no need or desire to review boiler replacement or other boiler related work. The Department of Buildings should not be requiring Certificates of No Effect for this type of work. If you require further assistance on this matter please contact either myself, at the above direct dial number, or Sarah Carroll, the Acting Director of Preservation, at 212-669-7902.

Sincerely Yours,

Mark A. Silberman
